

REAL ESTATE DEVELOPMENT MARKETING ACT
POLICY STATEMENT 3
DISCLOSURE STATEMENT REQUIREMENTS FOR DEVELOPMENT PROPERTY
CONSISTING OF FIVE OR MORE SUBDIVISION LOTS
(Non-Stratified Building Lots)

Effective January 1, 2005

1. Interpretation

In this Policy Statement:

- (a) "Act" means the Real Estate Development Marketing Act, and
- (b) unless the context otherwise requires, other words and expressions have the meanings given to them in the Act.

2. Disclosure Statement Filing

Unless exempted by the regulations, section 14 of the Act requires developers to file a disclosure statement with the superintendent before marketing a development unit in development property. The disclosure statement must:

- (a) be in the form and include the content required by the superintendent;
- (b) without misrepresentation, plainly disclose all material facts;
- (c) set out the substance of a purchaser's rescission rights; and
- (d) be signed as required by the regulations.

The form and content required by the superintendent for disclosure statements filed in relation to development property consisting of five or more subdivision lots are set out in this Policy Statement. The onus is strictly on the developer to disclose plainly all material facts, including a fact or proposal that could reasonably be expected to affect the value, price, or use of the development property or a development unit.

Developers may market a development unit immediately after filing a disclosure statement that is prepared in accordance with section 14(2) of the Act. However, before entering into a purchase agreement, the developer must provide a copy of the disclosure statement to the purchaser, give the purchaser a reasonable opportunity to read the disclosure statement and obtain a written statement from the purchaser acknowledging that the purchaser had an opportunity to read it.

NOTE: Marketing includes engaging in any transaction or other activity that will or is likely to lead to a sale or lease. It is the superintendent's view that marketing includes the use of "letters of intent", "priority lists", "reservation agreements", "conversion rights", "rights of first refusal", or any similar agreement that carries with it the right to acquire a subdivision lot. Accordingly, developers should file a disclosure statement before using any such agreement or receiving any deposit or other consideration.

Developers may advertise a proposed development and communicate with potential purchasers so long as potential purchasers do not gain the impression that they have a right to acquire a subdivision lot. To avoid confusion, it is recommended that every advertisement contain the developers' name and address, the telephone number of at least one representative from whom information and a copy of the disclosure statement (when available) may be obtained, and a prominent disclaimer stating that the advertisement is not an offering for sale and that such an offering can only be made after filing a disclosure statement.

3. Form and Content of the Disclosure Statement

Form 3 sets out the form and content required under section 14 of the Act for disclosure statements filed in relation to subdivision lots contained in a subdivision plan. The information contained in each disclosure statement must be set out in the order contained in Form 3. If a section does not apply to a particular development property, the section must state "not applicable". Sections and subsections may be added by a developer, as required, to meet the developer's obligation to disclose plainly all material facts.

NOTE: If a change occurs that would have the effect of rendering a statement false or misleading or that brings into being a fact or proposal which should have been disclosed if the fact or proposal had existed at the time of filing, section 16 of the Act requires developers to file an amendment to the disclosure statement. If the change is in respect of the identity of the developer or the appointment of a receiver, liquidator, trustee in bankruptcy or other person, in respect of the original developer, then the new developer, who has the right to acquire or dispose of the development property, must file its own new disclosure statement.

4. Enforcement

The superintendent's staff will review disclosure statements to determine whether they are in the form and include the contents required by this Policy Statement. In addition, the superintendent's staff will conduct audits of selected disclosure statements to determine whether they contain any misrepresentations, or otherwise fail to comply with the requirements of the Act.

Where it is found that a disclosure statement contains a misrepresentation, or otherwise fails to comply with the requirements of the Act, a recommendation may be made to the superintendent to issue a cease marketing order. Before issuing a cease marketing order, the superintendent will provide a developer with an opportunity to be heard, unless the length of time required to complete an investigation or to hold a hearing is detrimental to the public interest, in which case an urgent order may be made.

After a hearing, if a developer is found to have filed a disclosure statement containing a misrepresentation, or to have otherwise failed to comply with the requirements of the Act, the superintendent may order the developer, and its directors, to pay an administrative penalty in the amount of, in the case of a corporation, not more than $50,000 or, in the case of an individual, not more than $25,000. The superintendent may also order the developer to pay enforcement expenses or choose to recommend prosecution under section 39 of the Act.

NOTE: *Ordinarily, general encumbrances, such as easements for the supply of hydro, telephone or other services, do not significantly restrict the use and occupation of subdivision lots. Consequently, it is only necessary to provide a brief description of such encumbrances. In contrast, encumbrances such as restrictive covenants that impose building schemes or age, use or occupancy restrictions are significant. NOTE: Under section 4 of the Act, a developer must not market a subdivision lot unless a subdivision plan has been deposited in a land title office or an approving officer has given preliminary layout approval in relation to the subdivision plan. Section 10 of the Act permits developers to market a development unit before complying with section 4 if the appropriate municipal or other government authority has approved in principle creation of the subdivision plan and the superintendent has given permission to the early marketing. Policy Statement 5 sets out the circumstances, including the applicable terms and conditions, in which the superintendent's permission is deemed to be granted. Developers who have not yet deposited a subdivision plan or obtained preliminary layout approval should review Policy Statement 5 before completing this section.

6.2 Construction Financing

Describe the financing the developer has arranged or proposes to arrange to create and service the subdivision lots.

NOTE: Under section 12 of the Act, a developer must not market a subdivision lot unless the developer has made adequate arrangements to ensure payment of the cost of utilities and other services associated with the development unit. Developers should review Policy Statement 6 before completing this section.

7 Miscellaneous

7.1 Deposits

State the name of the trustee who will be holding purchasers' deposits and that all money received from a purchaser will be held in trust by that person in the manner required by the Real Estate Development Marketing Act. NOTE: Under section 18 of the Act, deposits must be held in trust by a real estate brokerage, lawyer or notary public, unless the developer has entered into a deposit protection contract. Ordinarily, deposits are held in trust or the deposit insurance contract remains in effect until the subdivision plan is deposited in a land title office, any premises purchased or leased are capable of being lawfully occupied and an instrument evidencing the interest of the purchaser or lessee in the subdivision lot has been registered in the appropriate land title office.

7.2 Purchase Agreement

State whether the developer intends to use a particular form of purchase agreement.

NOTE: Under Policy Statements 5 and 6, the developer must attach a copy of its purchase agreement that contains the terms set out in the Policy Statements as an Exhibit.

7.3 Developer's Commitments

7.4 Other Material Facts

Disclose any other fact that affects, or could reasonably be expected to affect, the market price, value or use of a subdivision lot or the development property.
